Administrative Coaching

1 hour per week for 6 weeks, Administrators K-12

The National Policy Board for Educational Administration has identified professional standards for school administrators (formerly ISLLC). By learning and applying these standards, the school administrator is better equipped to improve their school systems and administration. The standards include Leadership & Mission, Ethics, Response to Culture, Curriculum & Instruction, Community Support for Students, Professional Learning Communities, Engaging Families, Operations & Management, and School Improvement. Whether your school is small or large, young or old, growing your skills in these areas will make your school better and more effective.

Ask us if there is a leadership cohort in your area. We are stronger together when sharpening our leadership skills with one another.

Instructional Coaching

As needed, K-12

Have you wondered how to take your content area to the next level? Are you stuck in a rut or new to your content area? We are here to partner with you through one-on-one instructional coaching. During the pre-conference, we will examine your content standards and revise lesson plans to meet those standards. During your class period, we can model lesson implementation, co-teach, or observe for areas discussed during the pre-conference. Self-reflection and growth not only benefits you, but it also greatly benefits the students you teach!

Personal Coaching

As needed, K-12

Teachers have quite the workload when it comes to organization, time management, classroom set-up, working with classroom aides, and all forms of communication. Without careful planning, these tasks could easily take 60+ hours of our week! Work with us as we coach you through setting reasonable work boundaries, task management, and classroom organization. With careful implementation, you could decrease your work hours and increase the quality of your time spent in the classroom.
